Seek and Find Your Relatives at the North Hall Technology Center
- an after-hours event -

Research family history to your heart’s content on Friday, March 13, 2020.

The core collection of the Sybil Wood McRay Genealogy & Local History Collection has recently moved to its temporary home in the North Hall Technology Center, 4175 Nopone Road, Gainesville, GA. The genealogy collection will be open to those who preregister from noon until 8:30 p.m., you can arrive early and stay late.

At 5:00 p.m. the library doors will close to anyone not preregistered for this event.

This event is not for beginners or the faint of heart! The cost is $8.00 per person.

The Sybil Wood McRay Genealogy & Local History Collection offers full online access to the Ancestry Library Edition Database which includes the Federal Census for the United States; Heritage Quest Online, and the ever-expanding Georgia’s Historic Newspapers Collection available through the Digital Library of Georgia.

The Hall County Library System has recently become a FamilySearch affiliate library. A major benefit of being an affiliate library is access to additional digital records not available outside a family history center or an affiliate library. These digital records include image and name indexes. Currently, there are about 400 million original records available in a digital format that affiliate libraries can access. We also have microfilm of local Hall County newspapers starting in the late 1800’s through the present and cemetery records.

Our newest database addition is MyHeritage Library Edition which features more than 9 billion historical records from the United States, Europe, Latin America, and other regions, Census of England and Wales (1841-1901) with images, and more than 816 million US public records. Please visit the online catalog at www.hallcountylibrary.org to plan your search strategy. Copies can be made of resources. Staff will be available to assist you during the event on March 13th.

Space is limited. Call 770-532-3311, ext. 181 for more information.
